ROSS SHEPPARD
COMPOSITE HIGH SCHOOL

STAFF

This yearbook chronicles the times of the class of 1988.

Three short school terms have fostered Ross Sheppard as tentative grade tens. Patient work in classrooms, labs and on field trips has prepared you for further education or the work force. Counselling and instruction by teachers and parents has helped form positive attitudes in many areas of good citizenship. Participation in fine and performing arts, athletics and student union events has enriched the short time you have been at Ross Sheppard.

Friends have shared the good times and the not-so-good times.

All these aspects of your high school years are reflected on these pages. Cherish this collection of memories of the best years of your life so far. Recall future years, as you leaf through these pages, the traditions of excellence and the friendship of classmates and teachers acquired in your high school, Ross Sheppard.

Bon voyage and good luck to the class of 1988.

TAE KWON DO

For the first time ever, there will be Tae Kwon Do competitions in the Summer Olympics in Seoul, Korea this year. Alex Vasolla and Sayed Najm finished first and second in the provincial competitions, thus earning the right to participate in the National trials on March 26, 1988. If Alex wins at the Nationals, he will go on to the Pan-American games and if Sayed wins, he will be off to the Olympics in the fall.

GOLF

Susan Milton, Nicole Schiele, Catherine Harley, Carol Cathcart (Captain), Jay Astles (Captain), Cal Shula, Mike Winnitoy, Mike Arends.

A very large, enthusiastic and competitive group of golfers competed at the Team Trials. Both teams improved, but finished third in each competition at the City Championships - Boys out of 14 schools, girls out of 8 schools.

SR. SOCCER

Inconsistency marked the Senior Boys' Season in 1987. A four win five loss record led to a seventh place finish in the Senior Boys' West Division and a berth in the City Conference Play-offs. A very disappointing 2-0 loss to Austin O'Brien ended the play-off run.

Missing: Tara Dell, Ann Lyseng, Byron Churchill, Justin Ezekowitz.

A smaller squad than usual; fewer Gals, Rookies but the quality of runner was excellent. A tie for third place at the City Championship with only two complete categories was satisfying. We enjoyed marshalling at the CAHPER Meet.

Welcome to Young Life's 27th annual yearbook page (actually, it's our first!) We are a "wild 'n crazy" upcoming club in Ross Shep. Our activities range from volleyball tournaments, semi-formal nights, Jake & Elma's Blue's Brothers car rally, campaigners, Geritol-bowling - to week long trips of skiing, sailing, hiking and our ultimate resort, MALIBU! The exciting activities are offset with times for reflection and discussion of important issues that are sometimes hard to figure out. In talking with friends, many answers present themselves - including those of the Christian Faith.

ERNIE

by Lisa Wagner

Sometimes I wish I was Ernie. Then I could grow a beard and shave all sorts of neat designs in my facial hair. I could grow a little goatee and a long Chinese moustache like this:

Ernie's an interesting guy. Sometimes in the middle of class he starts to melt. Slowly his molecules change their state from solid to liquid and he becomes a puddle on the floor.

The other day, I was sitting in French class. Ernie was in the class above, I could tell. I guess he started to melt again. It was funny. First his legs were hanging from the roof. Ernie's quite funny, he wiggled his legs and everyone in the class gasped, except me! I laughed. His entire molecular structure changed and he became part of the roof (or the floor in his case). He was in the position where he was encased in the roof, yet free to move and he had some solid body structure. His face was hanging from the ceiling and he was making faces at me. It was really hilarious! Just imagine some guy, stuck in the roof, making faces at you. It's just unbelievable.

Sometimes when we are walking together he starts to melt. I worry about him. I'm worried that someday he'll melt all the way to the other side of the world and be unable to buy a plane ticket home.

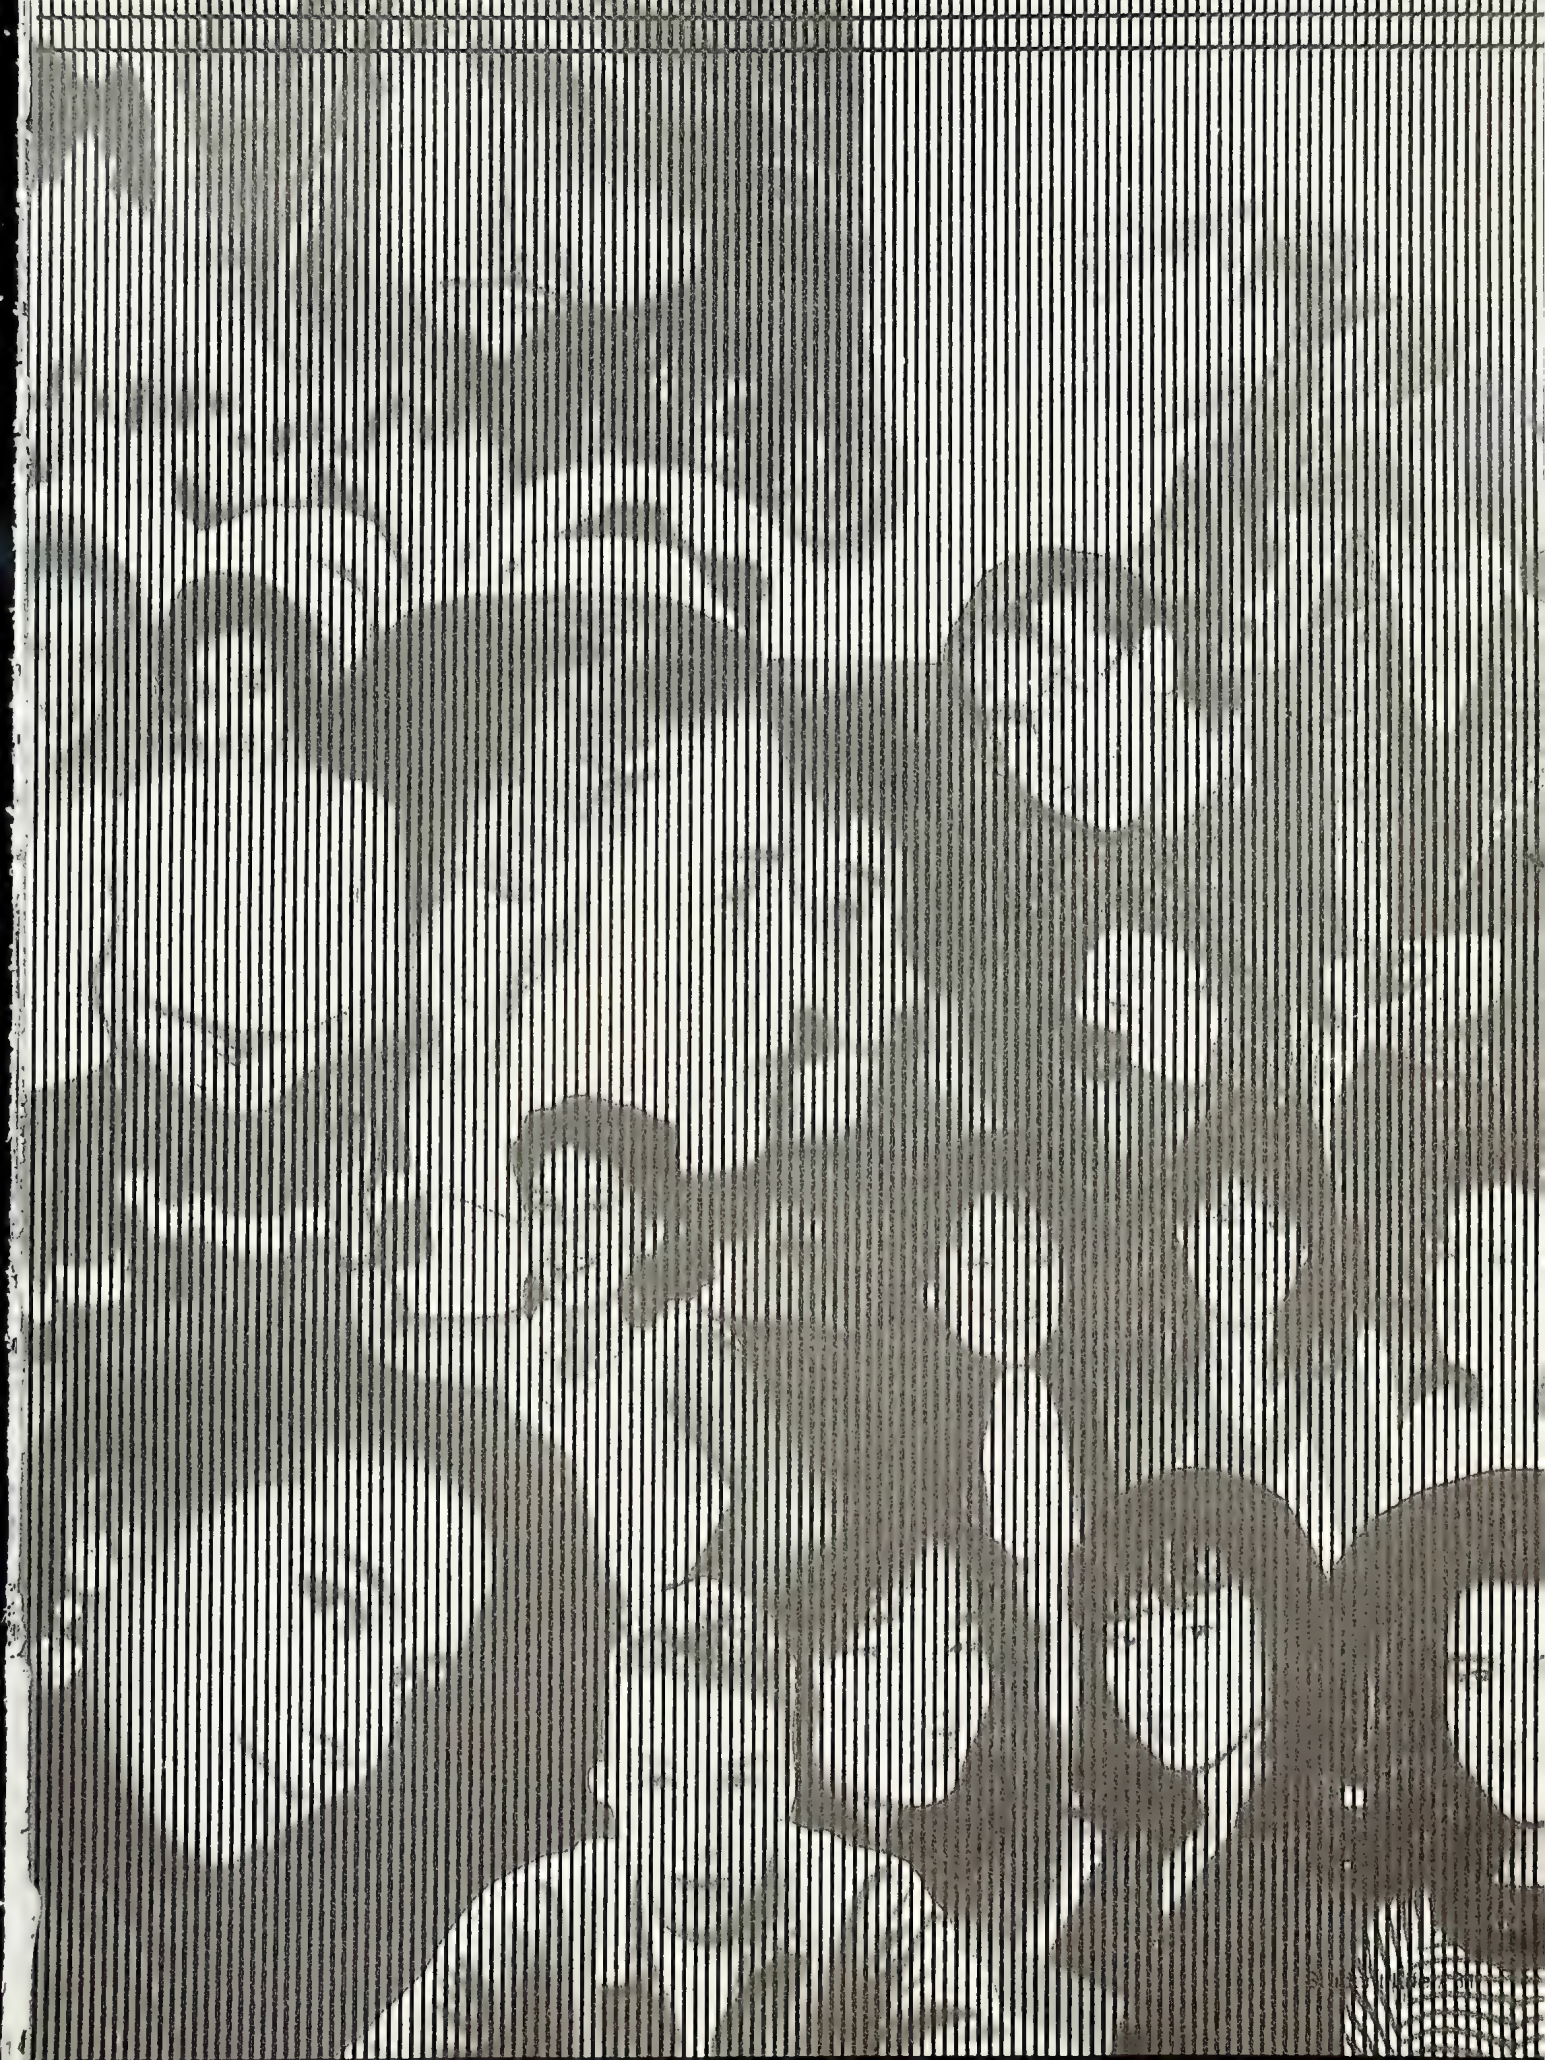

I wonder if he's ever going to learn how to drive. He said he tried it once, but his foot started to melt and he couldn't press down the gas pedal.

He is a really swell guy. I think one of these days I'll make a film about him, or write a story about his life.

ADVENTURE “DOWN UNDER”

Over the Xmas holidays, myself and some of my fellow Sheppies were lucky enough to go to the World Jamboree in Sydney, Australia. Our trip went like this: about 30 hours of sitting in airplanes or in terminals, about 200 hours of living with complete strangers and potential axe murderers, another 200 hours of comraderie, badge swapping and boomerang throwing, and generally basking under an Aussie sun, about 200 more hours of rocking down an Aussie highway, taking in the sights at the speed of light, then finally 30 or so more hours of puking, itching and squirming over the Pacific and then home again. I know I speak for all of us when I say we had the time of our lives.

Spending a weekend with your classmates and teachers isn't a high schooler's usual concept of a good time. But hey, who ever said IB's were normal? To cover topics that we didn't have time to do in school, our Theory of Knowledge class decided to hold seminars at a weekend retreat in November at Birch Bay Ranch. At the seminars, we pondered on such questions as what is beauty in art?, how valid is creationism?, but we learned the most in our free time.

We quickly found out things about our classmates - Corina's paranoia about mice, Bruce's aggressive tendencies with hay, Thana's snoring, - we got woken up by cats, by bread (!) or not at all (Ford and Lauren always missed breakfast) and we saw our fellow Token's as they REALLY are - messy hair, morning breath, hay infested clothes (although some of us brought whole closets!) and all. The nights were equally interesting - some of us built a campfire and stargazed, some played floor hockey, most of us talked, ... and talked, ... and talked; about everything - pasts, futures, telepathy, cameras, math, friends, love, music...a bunch of us stayed up till six a.m., alternately talking about our dreams, dozing off, getting tossed back into the real world, and talking about the dreams we just had.

The highlight of the weekend was undoubtably the talent show. I'll never forget waltzing to a trumpet and accordion rendition of Blue Danube, Red Riding Hood with a jivein' wolf and Monty Python Granny, Brent's half-nude ballerina bit, the guys trying to Schupluttie (slap slap kick slap clap!) - hilarious! On the other side, Dena played a beautiful Kol Nidrei on viola, there was poetry reading, singing, virtuoso, piano playing.

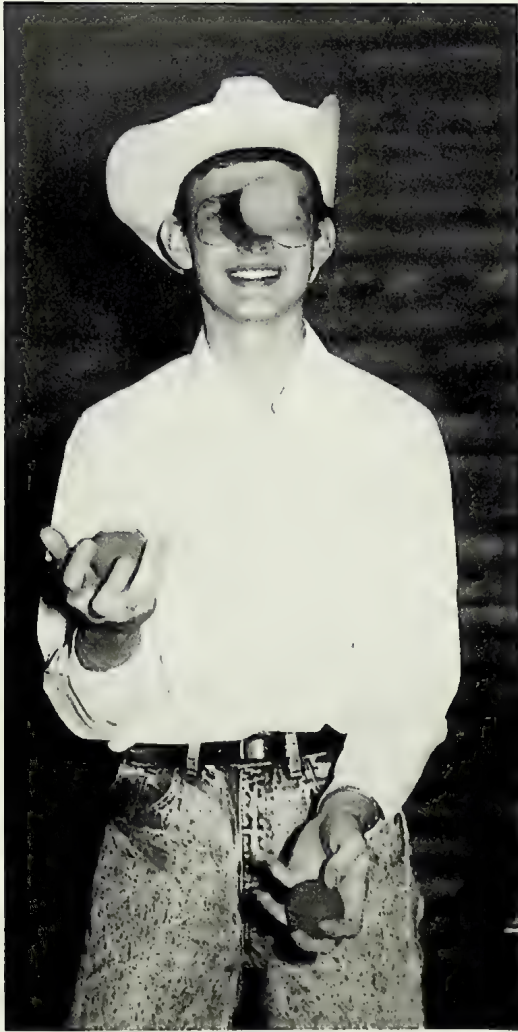

All in all, it was a weekend that I wished would go on forever - the side splitting antics, the serenity of the outdoors, stimulating conversation and, above all, a great feeling of togetherness.

The music department at Ross Sheppard had a very active and successful year. Performances were given at public concerts and at music festivals by the many fine young musicians involved in the music program. Participation at the Northern Alberta Musicfest 88 was a highlight of the year, with outstanding performances given by the Intermediate Band, Concert Choir, Senior Band, Jazz Band, and Jazz Combo. Other activities included a concert tour of southern Alberta by the Intermediate and Senior Band, a workshop weekend with the Concert Choir, a band workshop conducted by Dr. Frank Battisti, and a concert and clinic given at Ross Sheppard by the Lew Tabackin Jazz Trio. Ross Sheppard was well represented in the community, with several young musicians involved with the Edmonton All-City Honour Band, and Alberta College High School Wind Ensemble, the Singing Strings, and the Edmonton Youth Orchestra. The music department concluded its busy year with performances at graduation and a band and choir awards banquet.

STUDENT UNION

My Dear Friends,

This school year at Ross Sheppard Composite High is fast approaching its end. Soon enough the people, the happenings and what we've learned, will be committed to memory, possibly excepting the latter. Throughout it all I hope that you have enjoyed yourselves. We've all had some fun, I'm sure.

I am, more than ever, aware of how many good people there are in this school. From staff to support staff to students. I recognize the many who really care. I'll not mention any names in particular. Some are merely more obvious than others. Instead, allow me to thank everyone who has made our school life better over the course of the year.

Thank you for your support, to which I owe the position I have so much enjoyed. It has been a pleasure to serve as Student Union President; to preside over a group composed of those same just plain good kind of people. I hope that, in your judgement, we have represented you well and entertained you suitably.

Here's wishing you, my undergraduate friends, the best of times for however longer you remain at R.S.C.H.S. - and beyond! For my fellow graduates; may you succeed in your immediate endeavors, as well as those that follow. For everyone; may you live in fundamental happiness all the days of your lives.

Till we meet again,
Okimwih!

"THE SHOW THAT NEVER ENDS"

Just one more piece of masking tape on Mikey's wall and the poster is secure. We stand back to see if the darn thing is straight and by some miracle it is. Hanging there in the foyer its message "Welcome back my friends to the show that never ends" greets students from all over Alberta to another legendary debate tournament at Ross Sheppard. The hosting of the "Westerns" on November 20/87 marked the 27th. event - 26 tournaments and one workshop - that the club has hosted since the fall of 1974. Besides the Westerns, the club has held one Provincial and several regional events, the Sir Winston Churchill debates three times, a full day of the "Nationals" in 1980 and 14 invitational debates. These latter tournaments became known as the "Interprovincitionals" - meaning an interprovincial invitational tournament - and have drawn debaters from as far away as Regina, Kamloops and Inuvik. The club has built a reputation among debaters from Alberta and across Canada for hosting first rate events. The school has always been very supportive financially, students and staff have always been willing to help and the Administration has always eased the way. As important, the community around the school and alumni debaters have consistently helped by judging debates. The club can probably call on more experienced judges than almost anywhere in Canada. What makes organizing a debate especially difficult is that more judges and student staff are needed than there are debaters. But the club members work hard and always come through with enough people.

Along the way the club has set such topics for debate as: be it resolved that Canada enter into a free trade agreement with the U.S.A., Japanese Canadians be compensated for their losses in World War II, a Palestinian homeland be established, Canada adopt a position of neutrality and many more. The line was drawn, however at debating the legalization of prostitution.

The club also organized a 19 part series of competitive debate programmes on Capital Cable a few years ago which was quite an undertaking.

Besides being known for hosting great tournaments, Ross Shep debaters are known as formidable opponents not only doing consistently well in competition in Alberta but at the Western and National level as well. Probably no other school in Canada has sent so many students to the Nationals over the years - people like Rob Hayward, Norman Ingram, Janet Dixon, Scott Jarron, Paula Simons, Esther Winestock, Don Padget, Gurmeet Singh, Marc Givens and George Vlavianos. These and many other people have gone on to successful careers in medicine, law, universities, and interesting and creative pursuits in the world of work. Not only is debating a great confidence builder, it is a fun way to learn more about the world, you get to do a little travelling and meet a great number of interesting people.

The first sponsors of the club were Mrs. Betty Seymour, who really established debate and speech at Ross Sheppard, and Miss Cec Shaw, a former English teacher. Many parents have also rendered valuable assistance and one, Gordon Hayward, did much of the coaching about 15 years ago. The club has also enjoyed its association with the Alberta Debate and Speech Association who organizes many debates and provides myriad services to schools and students across the province. In fact, no other province has such a well organized and professional association as Alberta.

When I look back over those 27 events in my 15 years of sponsoring the club it is the good times and fine people I have met, both students and teachers, that I remember. For me, and probably most students, that has been the best part.

Shep got a new crosswalk, ashtrays became obsolete, mother nature showed her stuff, loonies appeared and the truth about Donatello became known. The library murals were wrongly attributed to Donatello. Thanks to Peter Brown (last year's exchange teacher from England) we now know it was Della Robbia who made the originals.

PENNY RELAY

Penny Relay was again a success this year raising enough money not only for Wilbur's yearly maintenance, but to donate to another charity cause. The room reps voted to spend the excess money on materials to support Y.E.S.S. which provides shelter and assistance to teenagers in a crisis situation. The Grade 12's once again led the way in donations followed by the Grade 11's and the 10's. Well done Shep!

Fortunately, for most of us, war, violence, hunger, poverty and oppression are scenes we see only on television. This is not true for all too many people in the world today, as approximately 1000 students learned on Thurs., Oct. 22 in the main gym. It was there, that 5 speakers of the "International Youth for Peace and Justice Tour" talked.

Career Day, titled "Challenging Your Barriers", was held at Ross Sheppard High School on the morning of November 19th. Forty-eight speakers offered 89 sessions on a variety of careers. Attendance was excellent and evaluations by students and staff indicated the event was very informative, successful and worthwhile.

P I C N I C I N T H E S N O W

When Steve Blackman asked me to write a blurb about the Students' Union's Winter Picnic, I asked him if it had to be true. He said "No".

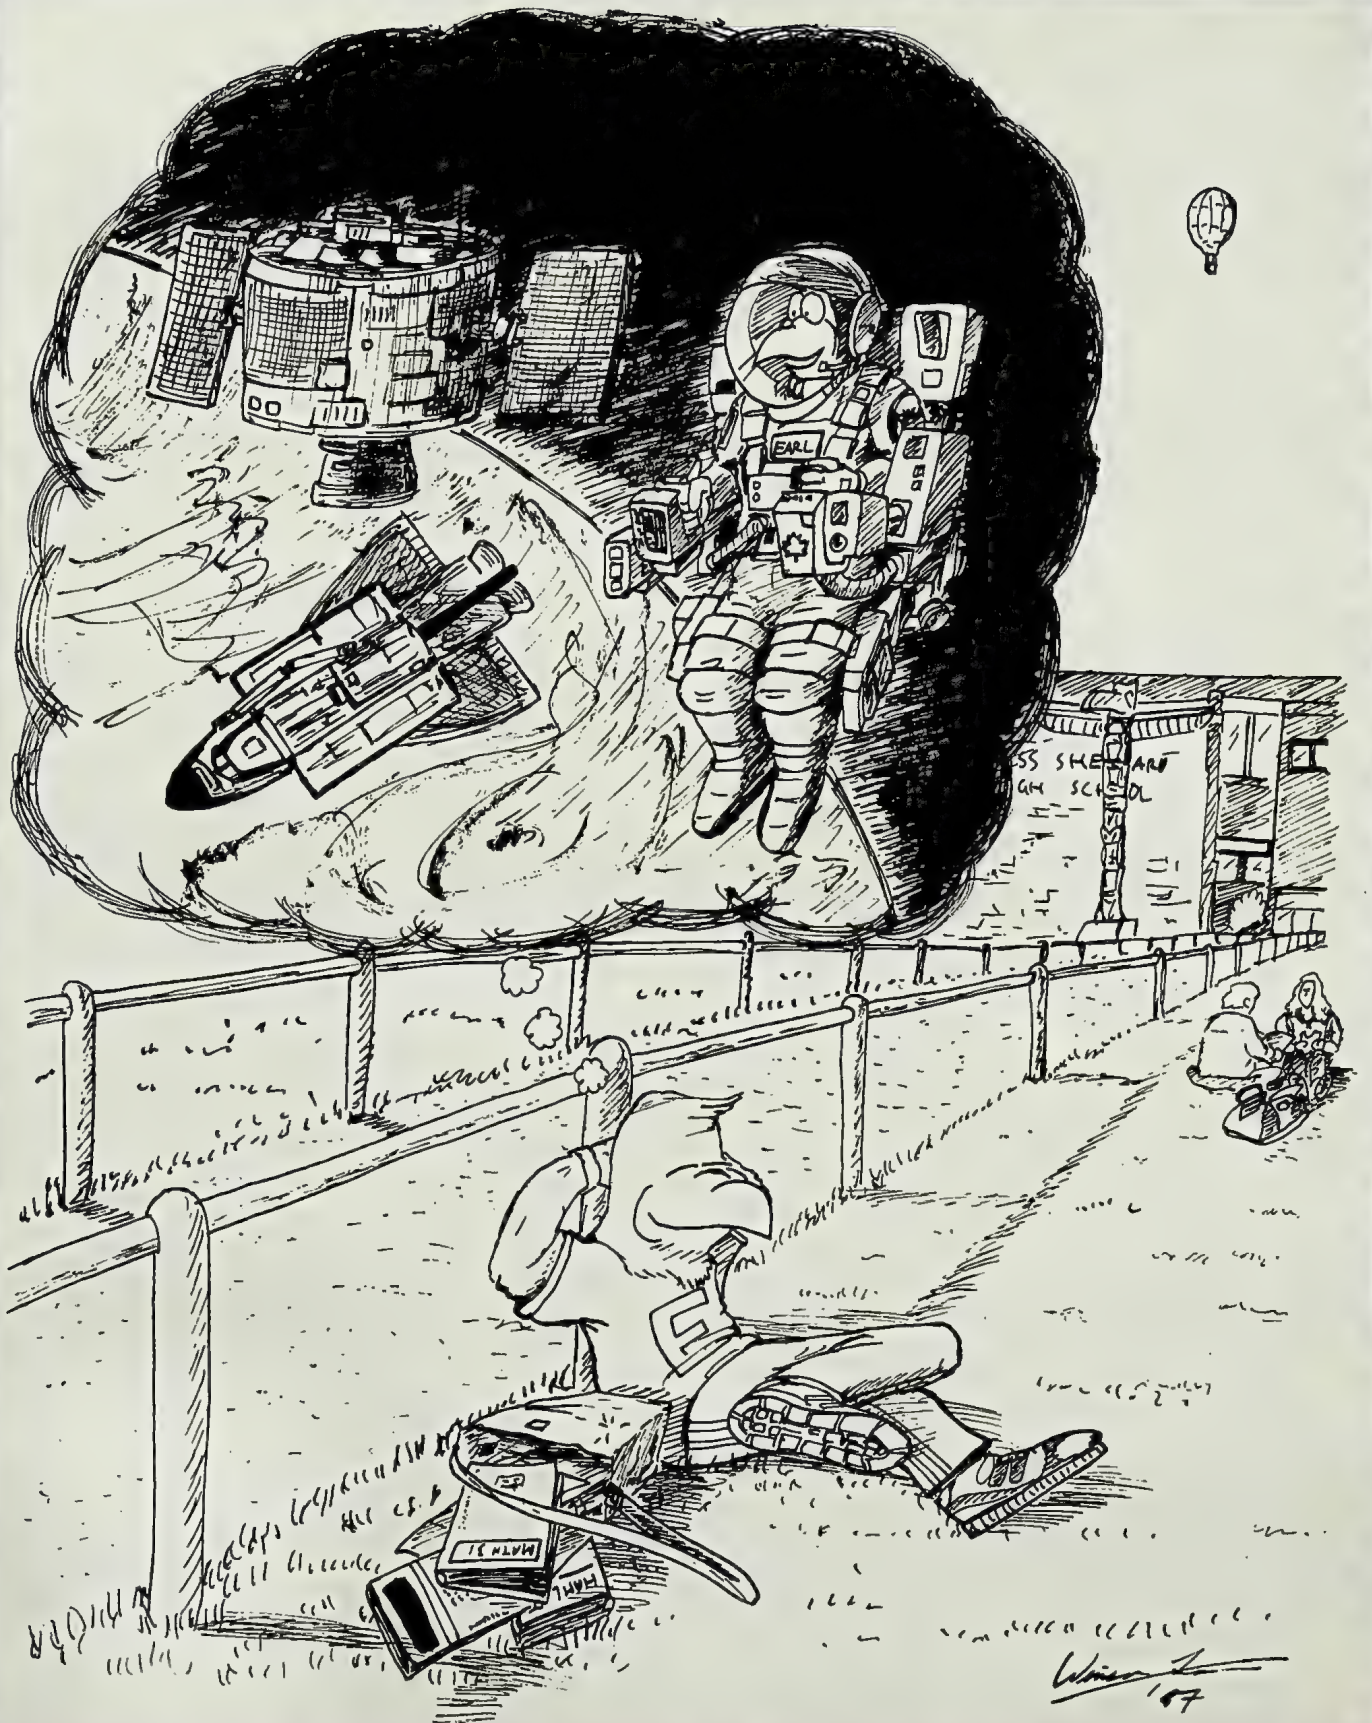

Well, let's see ... All the participants got themselves outside by twelve noon. There were only about one hundred people out there. It was too cold outside for the vast majority of weemish students. One said to me afterwards, "You should have had it inside." I punched him in the face and said: "The whole idea was that it be outside in the frigid weather, stupid!" Note that the temperature that day was two above, after a long spell of minus 20s weather; weemish indeed!

Anyways while we were out there we rode around the front yard and the hills by the pool on skidoos, ate from a smorgasborg provided by the Mayfield Inn, went for hot air balloon rides and were entertained by Tom Selleck juggling pineapples. Oh! I mustn't forget - we had a peanut scramble too! Except rather than peanuts we used gold nuggets. It was one exciting noon hour in a day that will forever mark the beginning of the tradition of the annual winter picnic at Ross Shep!

CAR RALLY

This fall's grad "Fairytale" car rally was truly an enchanting event. Although they failed to win, four enthusiastic unnamed grade11's faithfully leaped into the Queen E swimming pool and performed the fairy dance assuming that members of the Grade council were hidden in the trees. All in all the event was a great success and many other humorous events occurred. We hope students will continue to support the Grads efforts.

Graduation Day

Today we'll start a new life
 And we'll say our last good-byes
 To all the friends we've grown to love
 With whom we've laughed and cried
 Remembering the fun and the laughter
 The problems and the fears
 And watching all our memories grow
 Throughout our high school years
 The memories of the dances
 And the new friends that we've met
 Vacations; talking; teachers
 And exams we'd rather forget.
 Yes, high school days are
 Precious, but brief where all your dreams come true
 It is not the end, but the beginning
 Of a life we'll start a new.

YEARBOOK 1988

Wow!! What an experience! Never before have I seen such a disorganized bunch accomplish so much!

A very special thank-you to Mrs. L. who, despite losing a screw or two over the course of the year, always kept us on track and Mr. Jones who put up with a group of rookies with a terrible sense of humour. Also, many thanks to my co-editor, Steve Blackman, who never forgot how to "rock n' roll" and Paté Andrews who always kept Steve and me happy. Last but not least, thanks to all of the "Peter Boogers" of this world, who made this job just that much more memorable!

Good luck to all you Sheppies in the future but always remember that it's YOU who put Shep in a class by itself!

Until we meet again,
have a good one!

Friends,

Well, I really didn't think the time would come when the yearbook would finally be finished. When Mrs. Lindenberg first approached me at the end of the 1987 school year to be editor of the 1987-88 yearbook, I was really excited. However, I had no conception of the amount of time, energy and patience it required. The people who worked on this book from the typist to photographers, worked very hard to make this book as good as possible. So, when you read away and you find a little error there, or something that doesn't meet your approval, DON'T COMPLAIN TO ME! (or any other yearbook staffer either). I would like to thank Mrs. Lindenberg for all her tons and tons of help, reassurance, time, energy and patience. Mr. Jones for his tons and tons of help, reassurance, time, energy, patience and of course creativity. Aran, for doing all the work I didn't do, that I was supposed to, and his friendship. Paté, for having a groovy name and taking care of me and Aran. Last, but not least, Walter who is one-hell-of-a-photographer. Enjoy the yearbook and I hope you will look back at it in years to come with joy and fond memories.

Take Care and Good Luck,

On Tuesday, October 1987, almost the entire school population at Ross Sheppard gathered on the front lawn of the school for a school photo. That picture is what you see on the front and back liner of this book. Obviously, the only way to get 1650 faces into one photo is to shoot it from the roof and that's what is happening in the picture on this page. All our smiling faces were filmed at the same time for OBC TV's program "Switchback", aired on Sunday, October 25, 1987.
